JANUARY 21 INTERFAITH SERVICE PLANNED IN PRINCETON TO COMMEMORATE MARTIN LUTHER KING

The Princeton Clergy Association will host its annual Interfaith Service in honor of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King at 7 PM on Monday, January 21, the official federal holiday designated to his honor. The Service will be at The Jewish Center of Princeton, 435 Nassau Street.

The Rev. Dr. Alison Boden, Dean of the Princeton University Chapel, will be the preacher. Faith leaders and choirs from a range of traditions will participate in the leadership of the service.

During the Service, a freewill offering will be received, which will be split equally between the United Negro College Fund and the Princeton-based Coalition for Peace Action.

The Service is co-sponsored by Coalition for Peace Action. For further information, visit CFPA's web site, www.peacecoalition.org or call its office at 609-924-5022.
